++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain during the morning, turning brighter later.

Today:
A dry, chilly start but rain spreading east across the area during the morning with strengthening winds and some snow likely across the high ground of the Pennines. Rain clearing to leave sunny spells and blustery showers into the afternoon. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
Largely dry and clear for many into the evening and overnight, with any showers dying away and temperatures falling to give a widespread frost. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Tuesday:
A dry, frosty start to Tuesday but turning very windy into the afternoon, with rain and locally snow spreading to all parts. Becoming drier into the evening but staying windy. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Winds likely easing into Wednesday but remaining unsettled with further showers or more prolonged rain, and some snow possible over high ground. Conditions perhaps becoming brighter and breezier by Friday.
